TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The quality of angora that we produce strictly requires the combing and not the shearing of the rabbit in order to maintain the hair quality as much intact as possible.

Our supplier guarantees with a binding declaration that “the production of the Superspikey angora is obtained from the rabbits through hand combing, operation which does not cause any suffering or pain to the rabbits”.

It is an exclusive and refined technique that doesn't involve “any violence or stress from capture” for the rabbits.

As result of this technique, the yarn is very soft with very shiny fiber and easily replaces the most precious furs.

This craft technique makes our Angora well known all over the world since more than 40 years.

Yours faithfully
